

The magic lady

(by Simone Caccavale – 3M)

Shall I compare thee to a summer day? you're so beautiful and bright as the crystal water of the sea in holiday and your eyes light up the night.

you are for me vital, essential As bees are for flowers Your presence makes everything special Like the recent romantic summers you are so lively as is a flowery meadow, You are so euphoric that no longer exists with you the shadow. you are the only, in the world, magic.

and in your wonderful eyes there's my beautiful life
