

Sonnet

Shall I compare you to an April shower
A mild and refreshing rain to go through
You make way for sweet May flowers
An outdoor paradise for two

Oh girl, your voice is so sweet
I'd never stop listening to that melody
Soft and pure as snow after a sleet
That sound is of an extreme rarity

My darling, your eyes are so bright
Deep and intense, blue as the sea
Let them share your emotions, as their light
Of my soul and my hearth, is the key

So are your hair, and their shiny gleam
I'll forever stay with you, as an everlasting dream
